

Jade Bradley & Hannah Dodds join the growing team at MJC Law

Jade Bradley, Paralegal
MJC Law

MJC Law is pleased to announce the addition of two new members to the team. Both Jade Bradley as a Paralegal, and Hannah Dodds as a Solicitor Apprentice, will join the Nottingham Office.

Jade recently graduated from the University of Nottingham where she studied Law. During her studies she developed a keen interest for Mental Health Law and Mental Capacity Law and is now excited to develop her knowledge in Court of Protection Law. Jade says, “I am very excited to be starting work at MJC Law. It is an incredible opportunity, and I am looking forward to developing my Court of Protection knowledge further.”

Hannah recently completed her A-Levels and alongside working will study at Nottingham Trent University as part of the Level 7 Solicitor Apprenticeship course which works towards both an LLB Law Degree and the SQE.

MJC Law

Hannah says, “I am very grateful for this fantastic opportunity, and being able to develop both practical skills and experience whilst studying is something I look forward to.”

Lauren Crow, Director at MJC Law, says “we are delighted to welcome Jade and Hannah to the team. We are sure that they have bright futures ahead and it is particularly exciting for us to be able to offer our first solicitor apprenticeship role”.

The addition of Jade and Hannah to the team will aid MJC Law’s continued commitment to conducting publicly funded work at a top level, to achieve results that will benefit their clients and provide opportunities for development to its employees.
